

Date: 18th August 2023

Time: 10:00am

Venue: Assembly Area

Street Play Competition

On occasion of India's 77th Independence Day, Isaac Newton Global School conducted a Street Play Competition on the themes of Justice, Fraternity, Equality, and Liberty. Competition was conducted amongst four house students viz Yellow, Green, Red and Blue. Students from grade V to X were trained by respected house mistresses and their team of teachers.

The street play competition was organized to promote awareness and understanding of the fundamental values of justice, fraternity, equality, and liberty. The event aimed to provide a platform for creative expression while highlighting the importance of social issues and encouraging discussions surrounding these fundamental themes.

The competition was held during the school hours. It was judged by Ms. Blythe Gonsalves and Mrs. Assin Machado. They judged the street plays on Relevance to the theme, Clarity of message, Dialogue delivery, Expressions and Overall Presentation. The competition witnessed a vibrant showcase of street play performances by talented individuals and groups who passionately conveyed their messages.

(Green House)

(Red House)

(Yellow House)

(Blue House)

Performance Highlights:

1. Justice: Performed by Blue House students. Trained by house mistress Ms. Priya and team. Performances depicted social injustices prevalent in society and underscored the need for fair and impartial systems. It also highlighted the importance of access to justice for all.
2. Fraternity: Performed by Green House students. Trained by house mistress Ms. Shayadri and team. The play focused on fostering unity and promoting a sense of brotherhood among individuals. Themes included overcoming social and cultural barriers, spreading love and compassion, and embracing diversity.
3. Equality: Performed by Red House students. Trained by house mistress Ms. Tanvi and team. Street play highlighted the importance of equal rights and opportunities for all individuals, irrespective of their gender, socio-economic background, or any other differentiating factor.
4. Liberty: Performed by Yellow House students. Trained by house mistress Ms. Renuka and team. The theme of liberty was explored through performances that emphasized personal freedom, freedom of expression, and the right to live without fear or oppression.

Conclusion: The street play competition successfully brought together individuals and groups passionate about social justice, fraternity, equality, and liberty. Through their thought-provoking performances, the participants highlighted the importance of these fundamental values in society and encouraged the audience to reflect on their roles in promoting positive change. The event served as a catalyst for dialogue, empowering individuals to question injustices and work towards a more inclusive and equitable world.